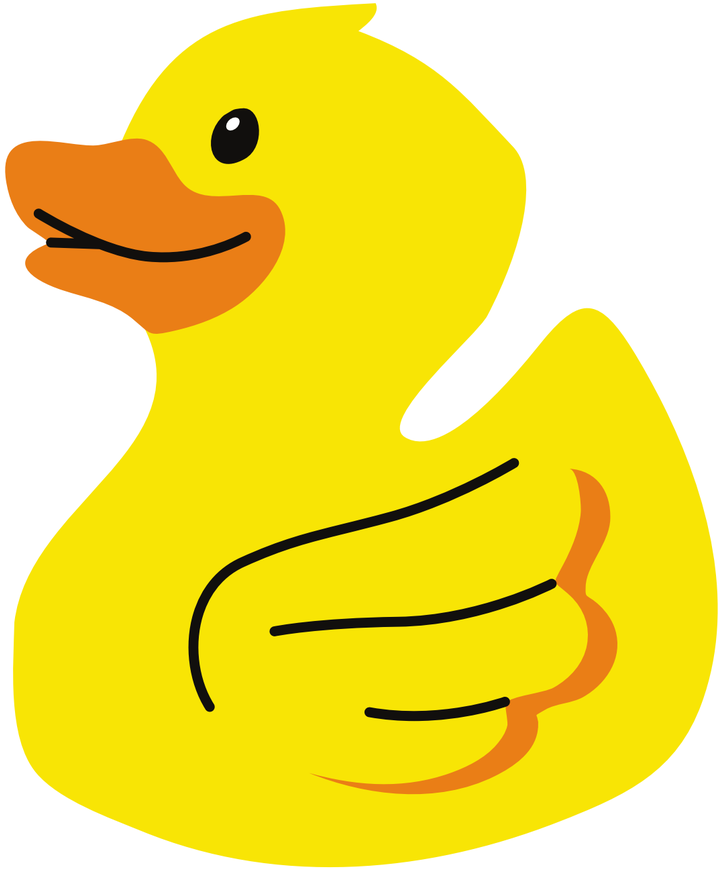
Iowa 80 Trucking Museum presents

JOURNEY OF A RUBBER DUCK

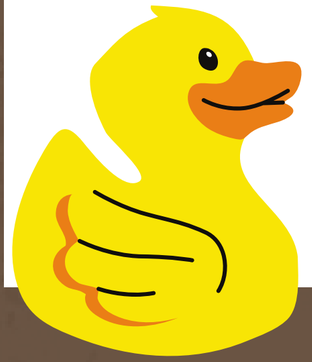
THE START

MEET LUCKY THE DUCK

This is Lucky. He was made in a factory in San Francisco, CA. We're going to go with him on his journey to the Iowa 80 Trucking Museum in Walcott, IA.

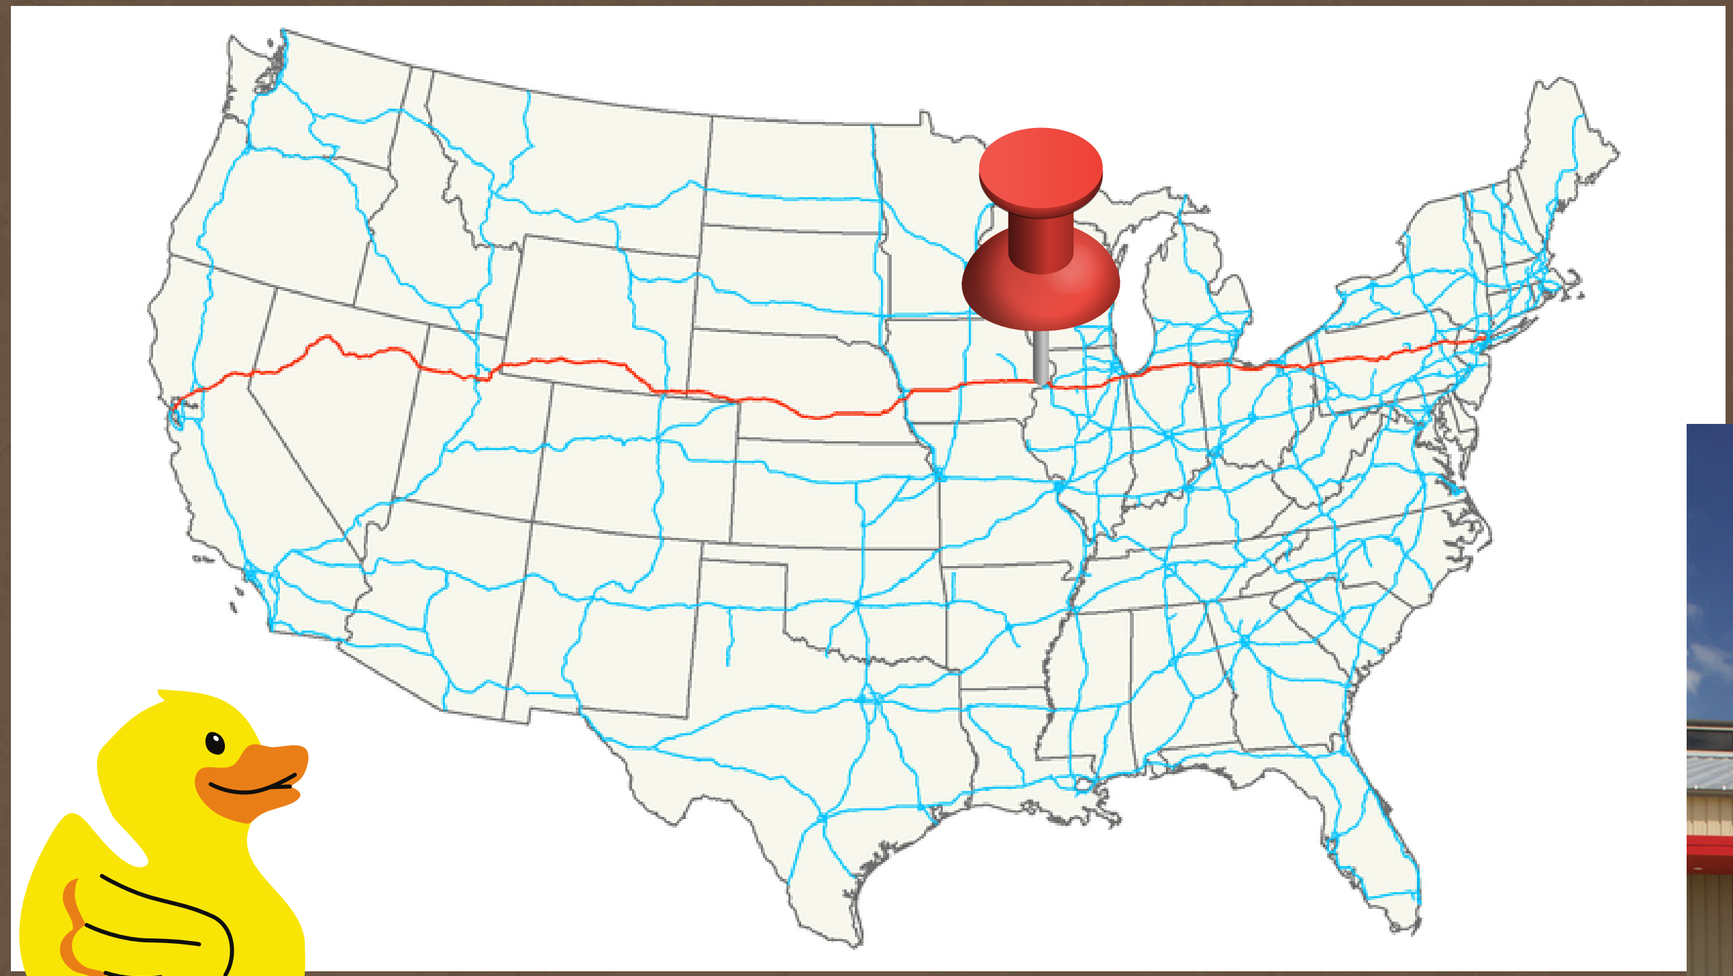


START



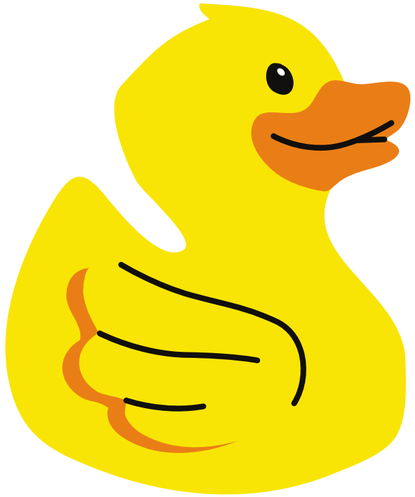
San Francisco is in California which is on the west coast of the United States.

FINISH



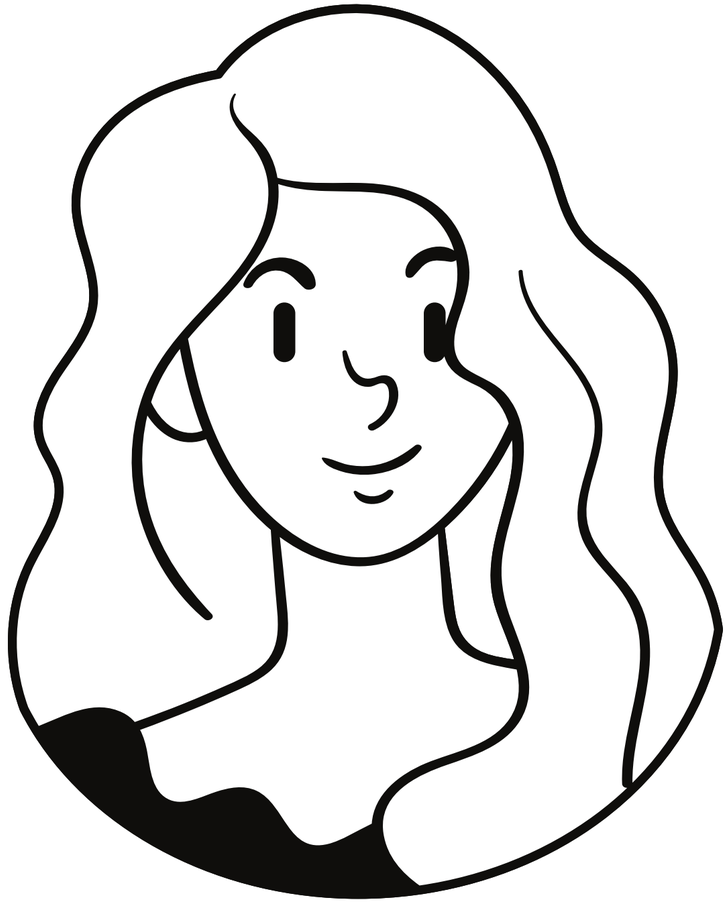
Lucky needs to get to Walcott, Iowa where the Iowa 80 Trucking Museum is.

MARY



LUCKY GETS A RIDE

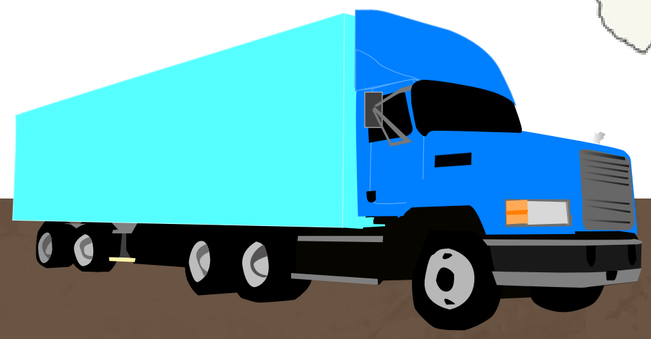
This is Mary. She is a truck driver! Mary is going to take Lucky to where he needs to go.



I-80

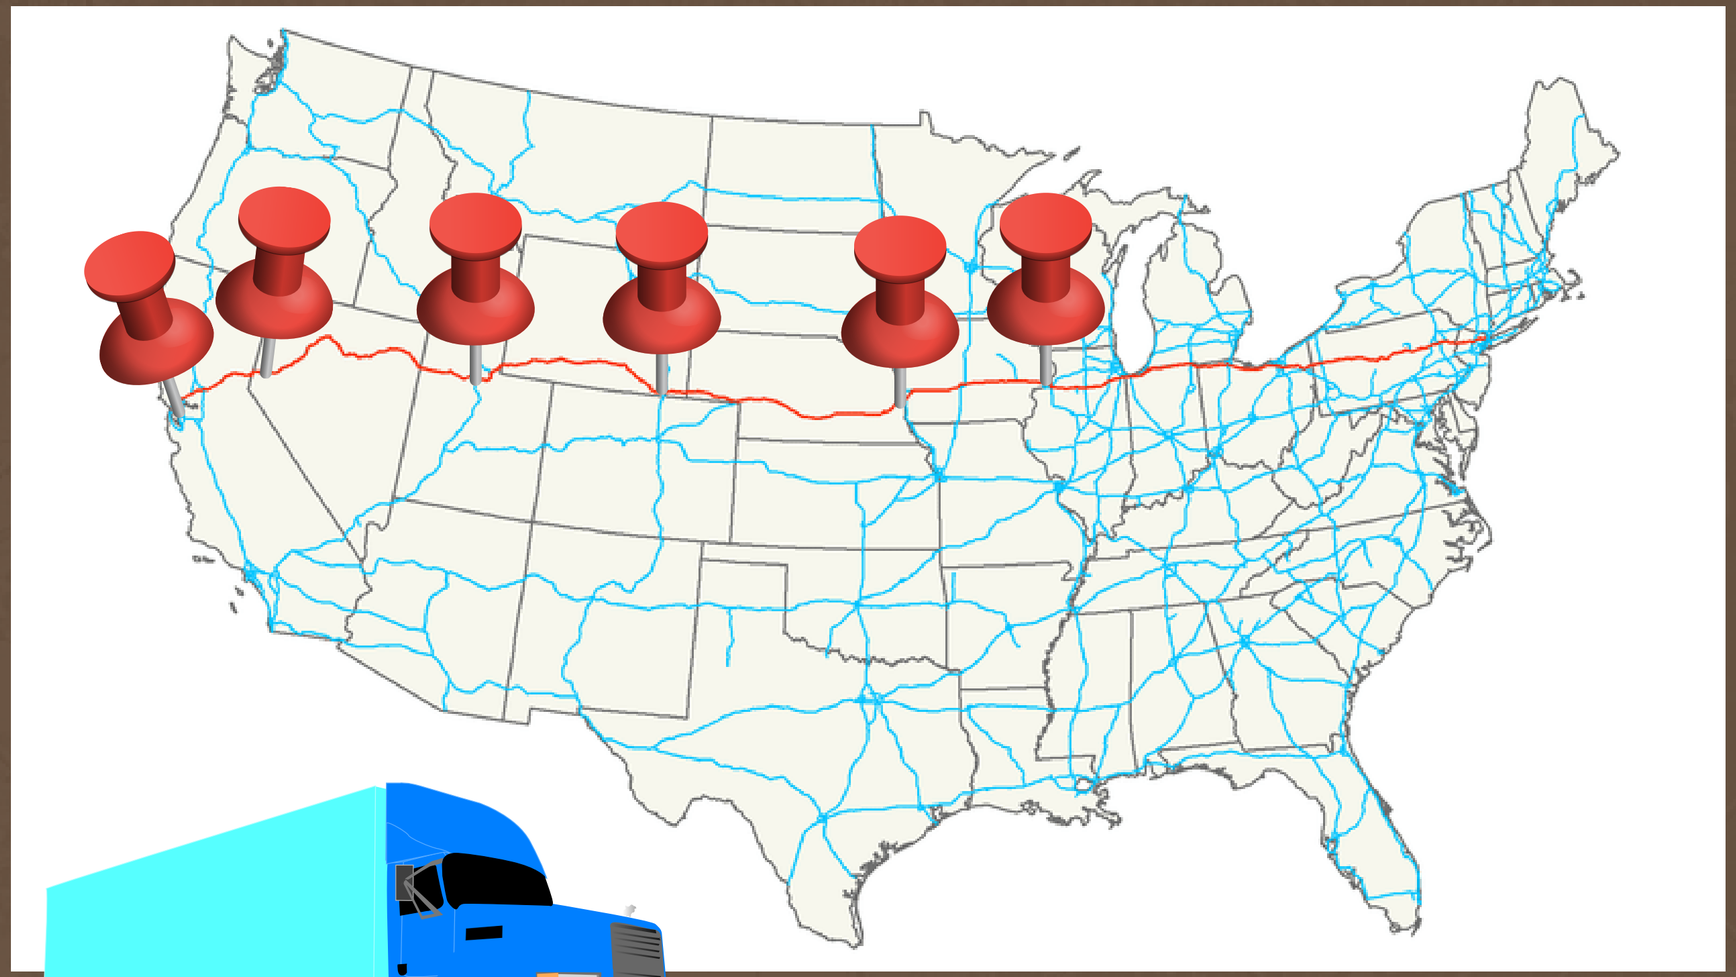
See the red line? That's Interstate 80, or I-80 for short. It runs from San Francisco, California to Teaneck, New Jersey.

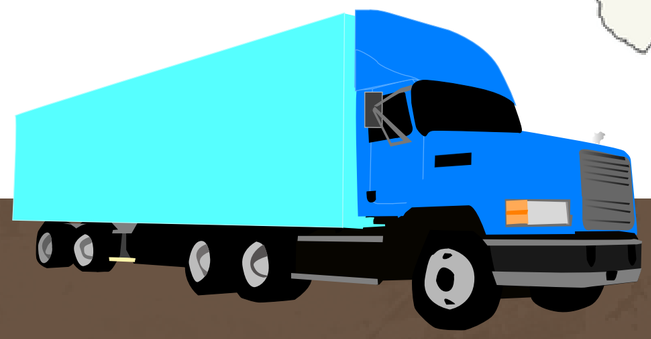
I-80



Mary will drive her truck along I-80 to get to Walcott, Iowa.

I-80





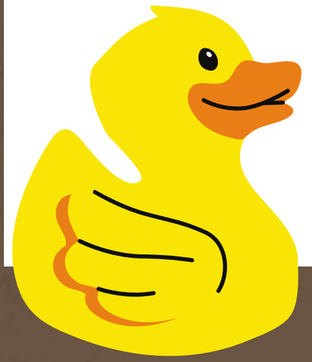
Here is where she plans to stop along the way.

START

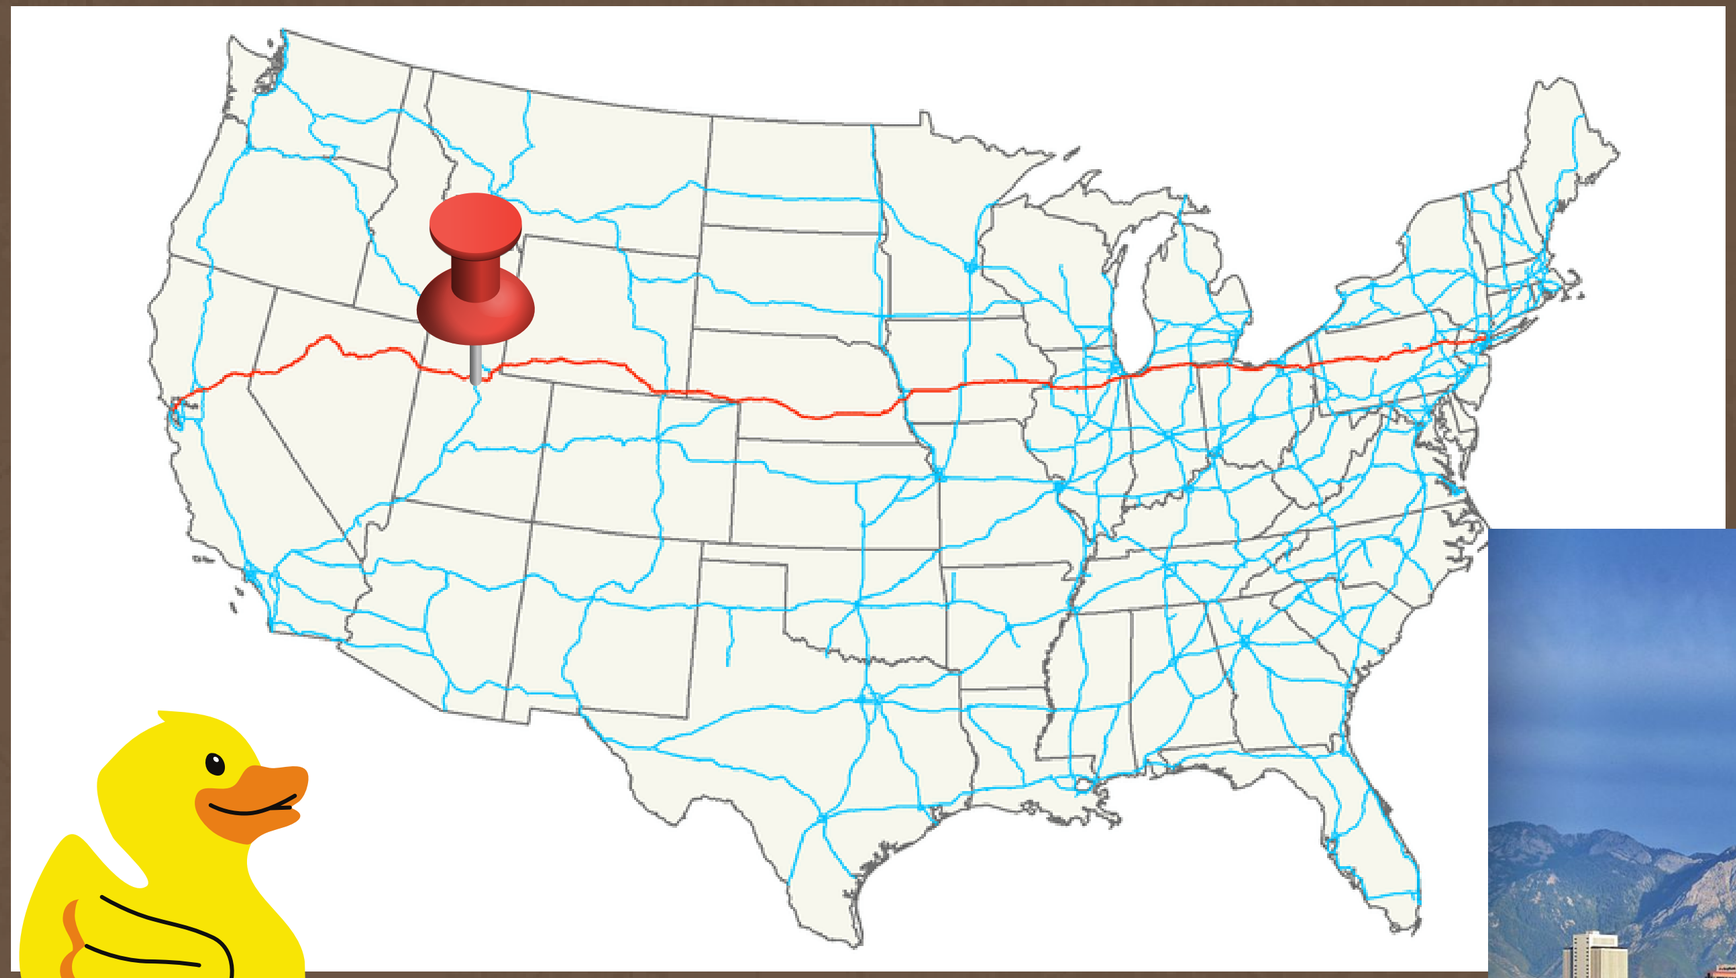
The journey begins in San Francisco, which is home to the most photographed bridge in the world - the Golden Gate Bridge.

STOP 1

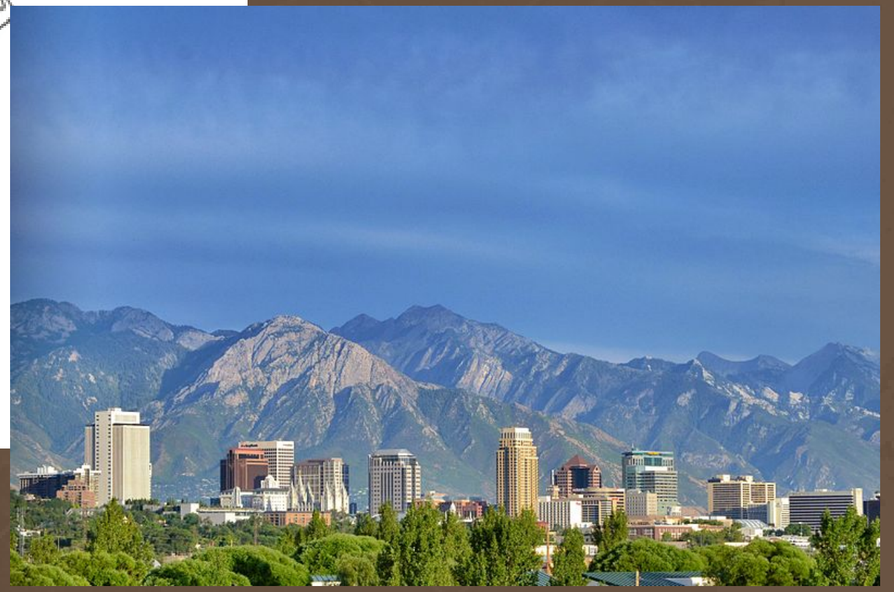
The first stop on the trip is Reno, Nevada. Reno has an average of 300 days of sunshine each year; it's one of the sunniest cities in the country!



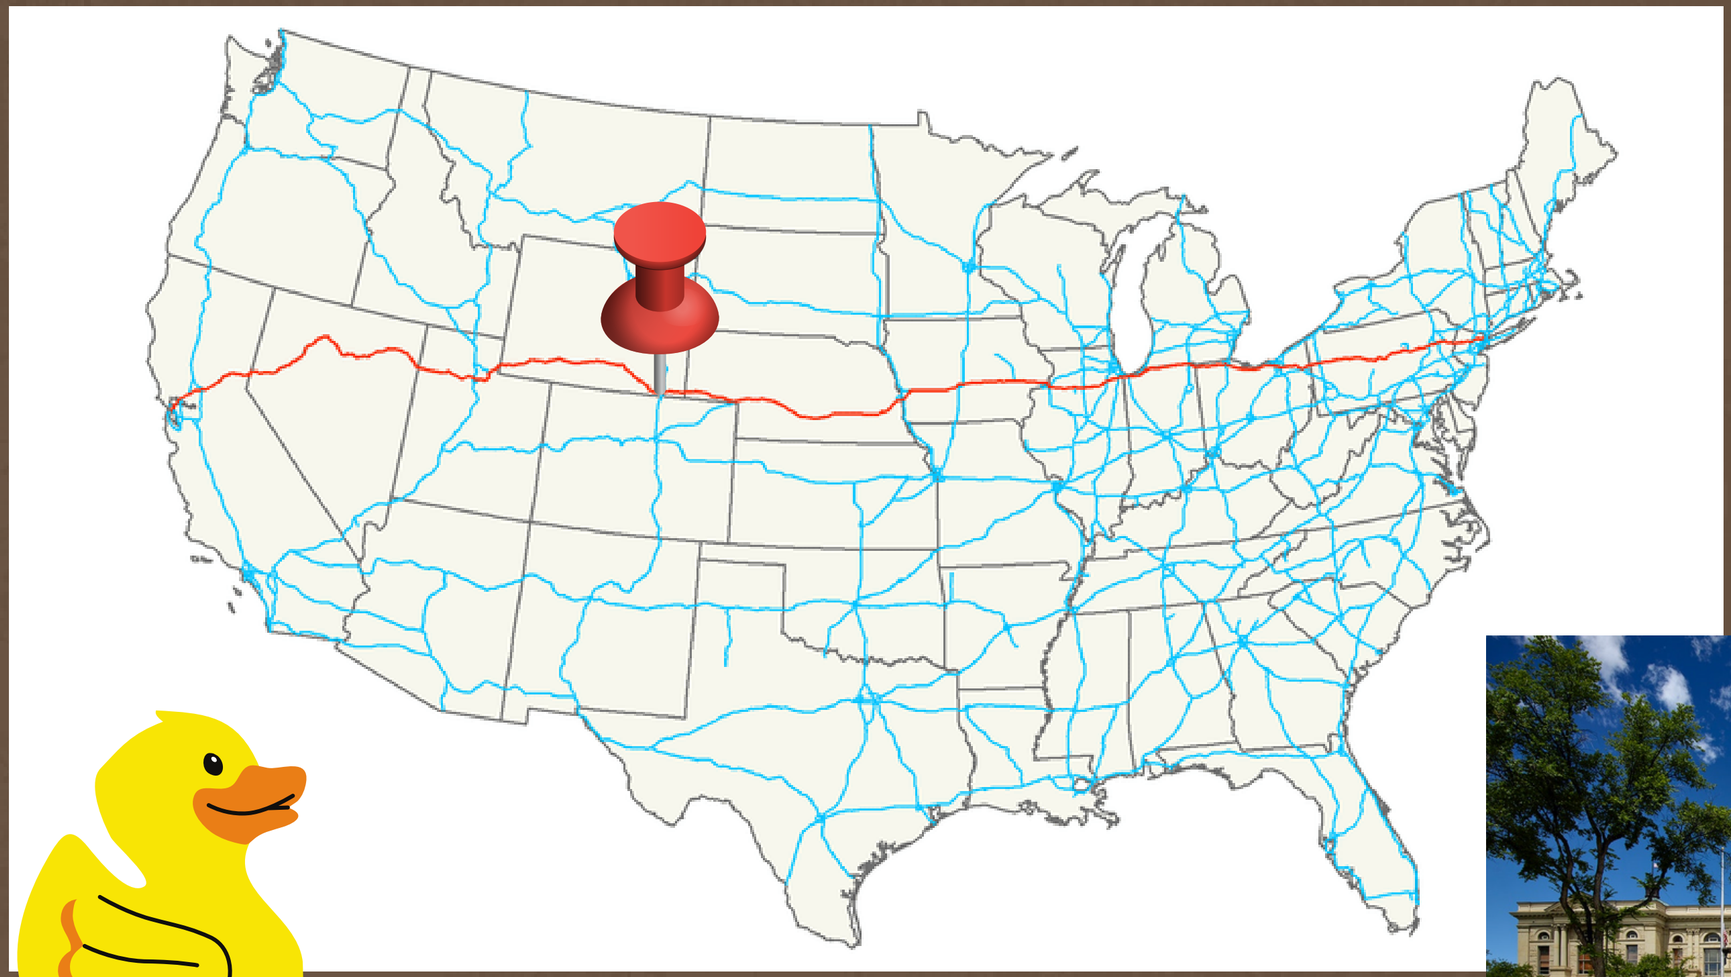
STOP 2



The second stop is Salt Lake City, Utah. Salt Lake City hosted the Winter Olympics in 2002.

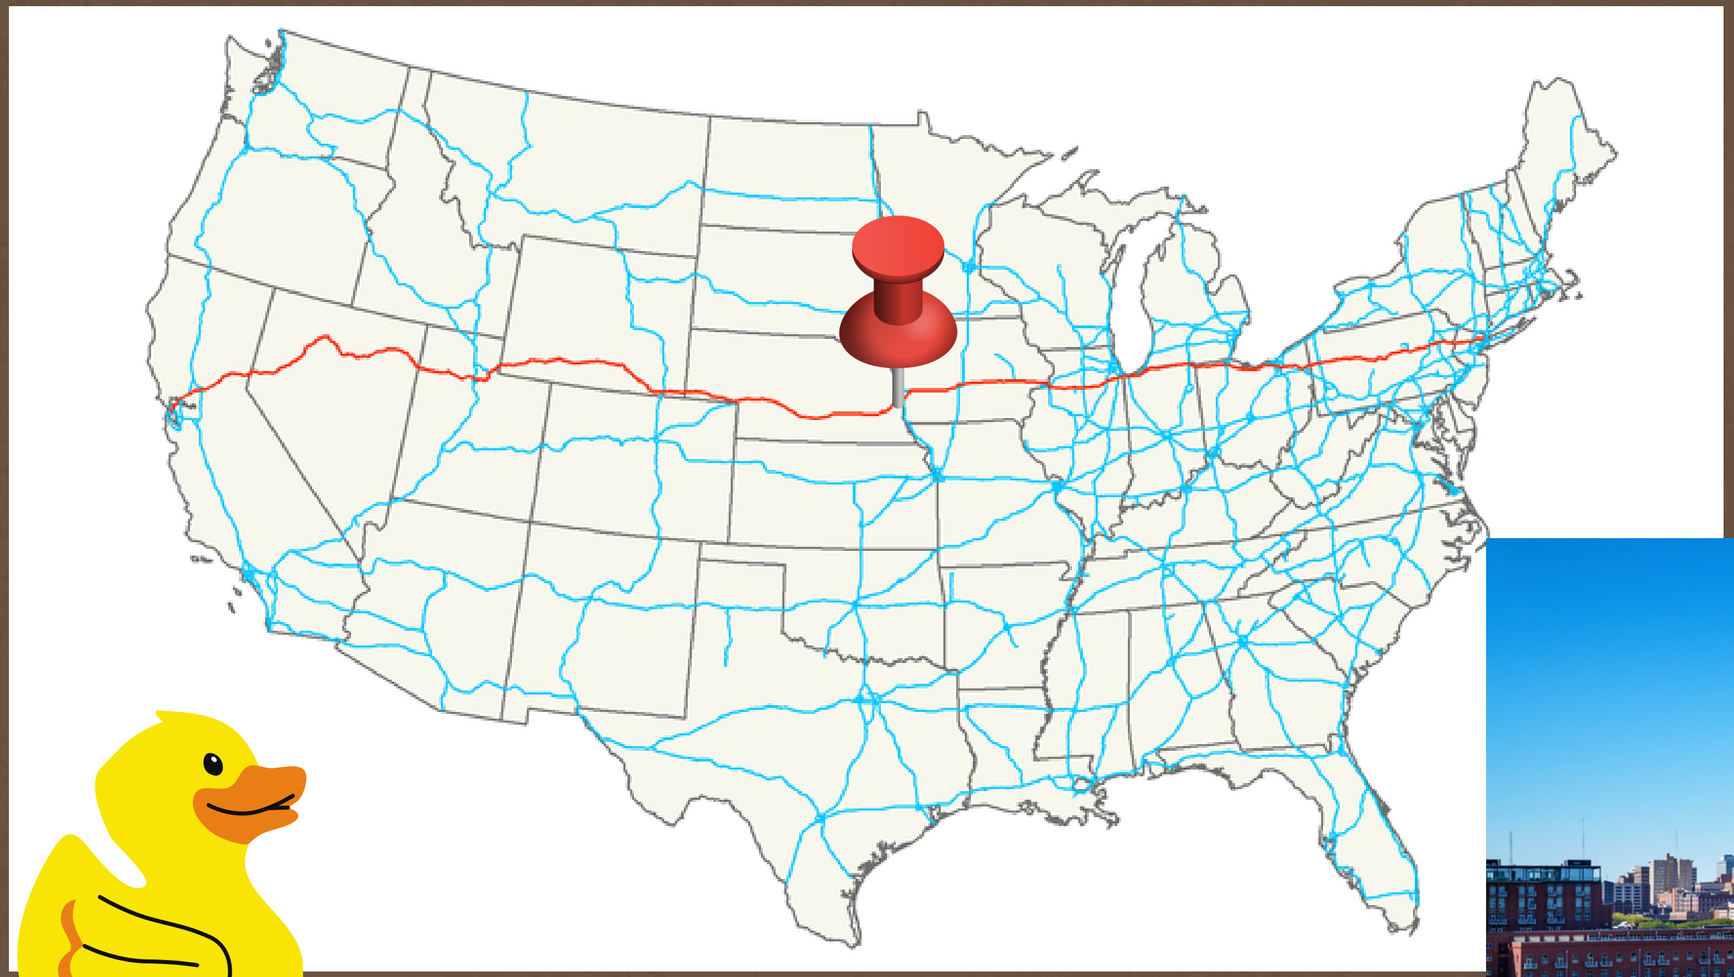


STOP 3

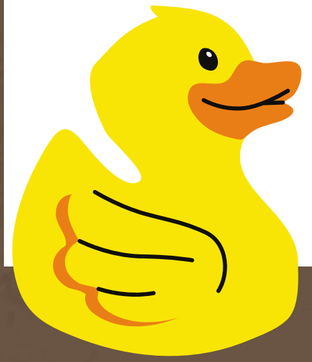


The third place Mary and Lucky stop is Cheyenne, Wyoming. The city was named for the Cheyenne people of the Great Plains.

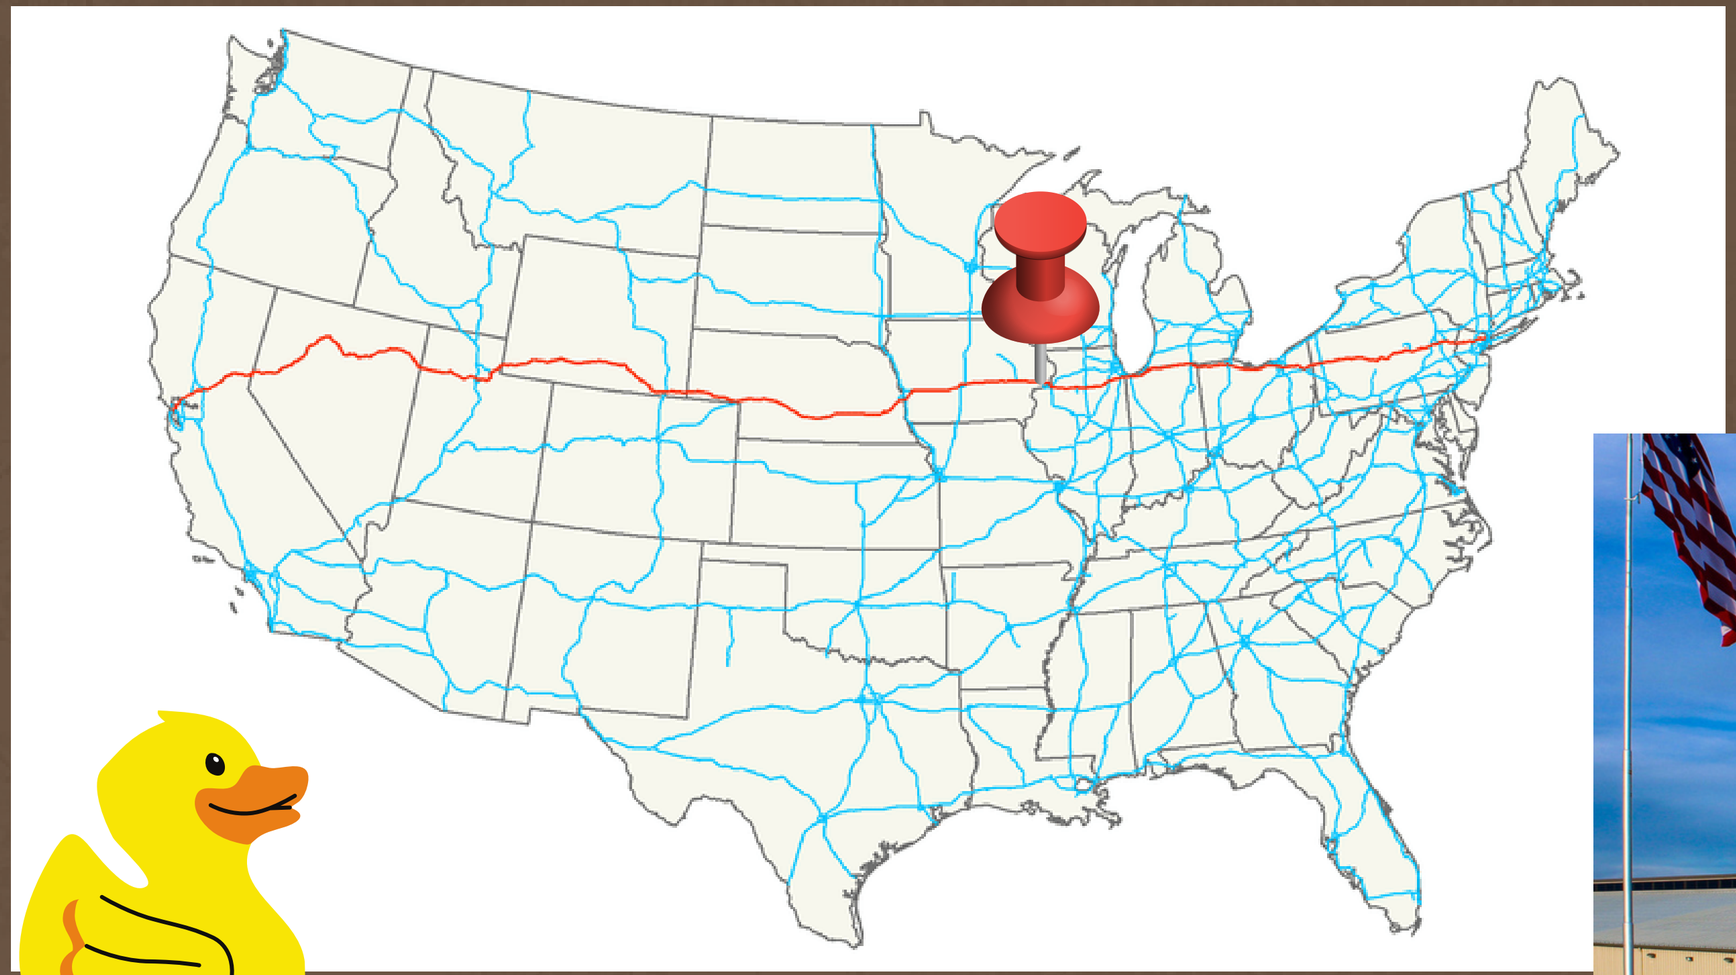
STOP 4



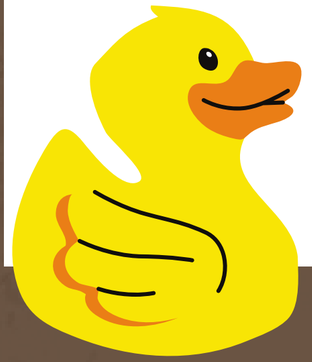
The fourth stop is Omaha, Nebraska. Did you know several things were invented in Omaha including the bobby pin and Reuben sandwich?



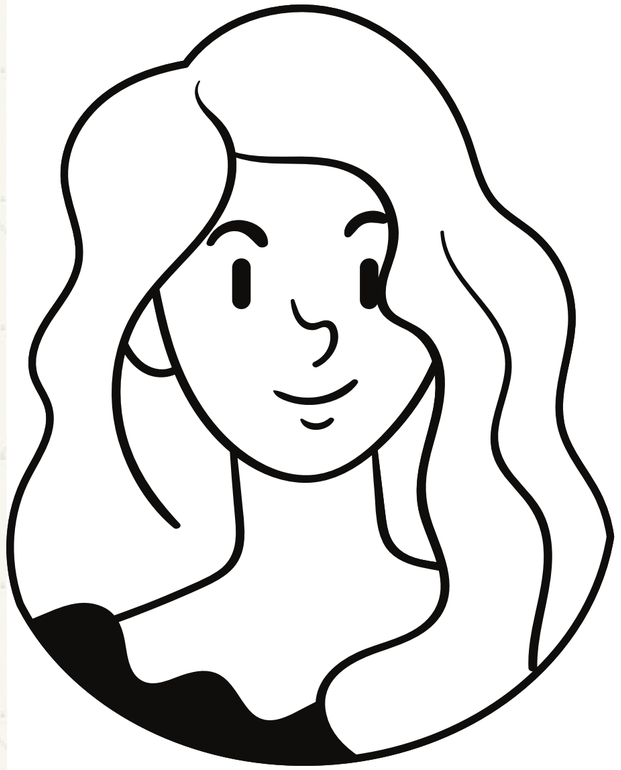
FINAL STOP



Finally! After nearly 2,000 miles of driving along I-80, Mary and Lucky made it to Walcott, Iowa!



FINISH LINE



Thanks to Mary and other truck drivers, rubber ducks and other goods can get from one place to another.
